Panoptics, in partnership with VeloCloud, Now Part of VMware, to host SD-WAN roundtable

A casual open room lunch event designed to help businesses find out more about SD-WAN technology

The relaxed afternoon event being held at The Brewery, London (EC1Y 4SD) on Wednesday 27th February, will be a great opportunity for businesses from all industries to discover the truth about SD-WAN and get a better understanding of what it could mean for their organisation.

As the UK's leading managed SD-WAN provider, Panoptics will be “Demystifying SD-WAN” and explaining how simple, agile and secure branch office wide area networks are now easily achieved.

Furthermore, discussions will centre around the delivery of cutting edge Cloud-Delivered SD-WAN in partnership with the global market leader, VeloCloud, Now Part of VMware. Dramatically decreasing bandwidth costs and deployment timeframes, whilst delivering a high performing, flexible network over private, broadband Internet and LTE links, the event is of great value to every organisation, large or small, on the journey to digital transformation.

Nestled amongst the bustling streets of East London, an area renowned for its local markets, street vendors and unique restaurants, The Brewery is the perfect setting for this inspiring event where great food, great company and informative discussion will combine for an afternoon that can't be missed.
