The Next Chapter

Panoptics grows its leadership and management team & strengthens its position amidst continued growth

From humble beginnings and a deep set ambition to deliver IT services the right way, to one of the UK's most exciting, young digital transformation and IT providers, Panoptics has come a long way in the last 6 years. And that's not where the story ends!

Following huge growth in 2017 and a successful move to a new dedicated HQ in Putney, London, Panoptics are incredibly pleased to announce the latest additions to our leadership team which are ushering in the "next chapter" for the business.

Strategic direction

Providing strategic leadership and direction, new Managing Director, Graham Gee is a welcome addition to the leadership team, formalising the growing board of directors and setting the growth and client agendas for the business. With an eye on the future, a vast amount of experience in all facets of IT delivery including during periods of change such as PLC acquisitions, de-mergers, disposals and business transformation projects plus an impressive background delivering IT requirements in diverse sectors from futures and options, events and broadcasting to retail and property development, Graham joins the board at an exciting juncture and is the ideal leader to drive the business in innovative new directions and capitalise upon emerging opportunities.

Further strengthening the Panoptics board and providing a wealth of digital transformation knowledge, Ross Holliday joins the business as Sales Director. A customer focused attitude coupled with extensive sales and management experience, Ross provides the perfect balance between customer satisfaction and innovative solutions that ensures every project undertaken is a huge success. As a key part of Panoptics management team during an exciting period of growth, Ross's knowledge of the market is invaluable in ensuring our existing customers receive the best possible service whilst engaging and developing our customers of the future.

We're always available to discuss any IT Project and would welcome the opportunity to talk it through. Get in touch now and we're confident we will find the perfect solution for your business.
